

Figure 1: Comparison of the running times for . The x -axis corresponds to the approximation ratio, while the y -axis corresponds to the base of the exponent in the running time. A point at (β, c) indicates that there exists a parameterized β -approximation for in time $c^k \cdot n^{(1)}$.